Pre-charge Intervention Program Introduced

The Harris County District Attorney's Office started the First Chance Intervention Program (FCIP) pilot in October 2014. Under the pilot program, nonviolent, first-time offenders who possess two ounces or less of marijuana (a Class B misdemeanor) are offered a chance to avoid formal charging. During the pilot, people arrested by the Harris County Sheriff's Office and the Houston Police Department may be offered the opportunity to participate in the FCIP by the arresting officer before charges are filed. As long as they successfully complete the program the participant will not have a criminal record.

First Chance is also offered to persons who are formally charged with two ounces or less of marijuana and otherwise meet the requirements for participation. Those people are referred from the court and will have the case against them dismissed upon completing the program.

Once the person agrees to the terms of the program, whether pre-charge or post-charge, Pretrial Services is notified and begins the process to assess and supervise the participant. Following an interview and risk assessment, and after signing a FCIP agreement, participants are assigned to either a 60-day supervision period with a community service requirement or a 90-day supervision period with a cognitive skills class requirement.

Individuals who opt out of the program or fail to satisfactorily complete the program requirements are referred back to the District Attorney's Office for prosecution.

As the District Attorney's Office explains, "The program recognizes the principle that first-time offenders who commit low-level, non-violent offenses are often self-correcting, without the need for more formal and costly criminal justice intervention. It also frees up law enforcement, jail, prosecution and court resources that would otherwise be expended in the arrest and prosecution of the offender."

New Director of Pretrial Services

Douglas Coppin joined Harris County Pretrial Services as Director in February 2015. Mr. Coppin formerly led the Norfolk, Virginia pretrial services program. We welcome Mr. Coppin and look forward to working with him to continue the development of pretrial services as an integral part of the justice system and a service to the Harris County community.

Defendant Information

The department compiles reports on defendants charged in Harris County with Class B misdemeanor or greater offenses. The report contains the defendant's criminal history, demographic information, education and employment status - factors that contribute to an assessment of the defendant's risk of pretrial misconduct. These factors, along with the defendant's risk assessment score, contribute to the department's release recommendation. The Pretrial Services defendant report facilitates informed decision-making throughout the pretrial stage of a case, beginning with bail review at the probable cause hearing and for subsequent appearances before the assigned court. Pretrial officers present reports to the magistrates conducting probable cause hearings; judges in the assigned courts receive a hard copy and also can view the report online. Other authorized criminal justice personnel can view report information online as well.

The number of interviews decreased along with the number of arrests; however, the percent of the arrest population interviewed by the department with suspected mental health issues continues to grow.

Characteristics of Defendants Interviewed

Defendant Report Activity

Arrests for new offenses were down 4% in 2014 from 2013 and down almost 20% from the record number of arrests in 2009.

There were a total of 84,476 arrests in 2014. This includes 52,506 people whose most serious charge was a class A or B misdemeanor, down 5.1% from 2013, and 31,970 people arrested for a felony offense, 2.1% fewer than in 2013. Defendants charged with felony offenses accounted for 37.8% of arrests and misdemeanors for 62.2%.

The department compiled 72,172 defendant reports on incarcerated defendants, screening 85.4% of the arrested population. Staff prepared 43,861 reports on defendants arrested solely for a misdemeanor offense, compiling information on 83.5% of that population. For those defendants arrested for a felony, the percentage was 88.6%, or 28,311 reports completed.

Other defendants interviewed included 38 defendants who originally posted a financial bond and were interviewed after release for consideration for a personal bond and 31 interviews conducted with non-incarcerated defendants who had an open warrant, usually on a motion to adjudicate or a motion to revoke probation. In addition, 73 interviews were conducted for performance, appeal, and witness bonds.

For the First Chance Intervention Program that began in October 2014, 114 interviews and risk assessments were conducted. Of those interviewed specifically for the program, 76 were pre-charge and 38 were post-charge.

Risk Assessment

The scores obtained from the risk assessment instrument range from 0 - 17 points. Higher risk scores are associated with increasing probabilities for pretrial misconduct (failure to appear in court, re-offense).

Point Range	Risk Level	% Rate of Misconduct
0 - 3	Low	Less than 10%
4 - 5	Low-Moderate	12% - 14%
6 - 7	Moderate	17% - 24%
8 and above	High	Greater than 29%

The final risk level for a defendant takes into account both mitigating and aggravating factors. Overrides of the scored level occurred in 3.4% of risk assessments. Over 99% of the overrides were done due to aggravating factors. The most frequently used reasons to raise the risk level were related to the defendant's criminal record - either the person was under supervision at the time of the interview or the serious nature of their criminal record warranted a higher risk level. These reasons accounted for 78.6% of overrides that were applied for aggravating circumstances.

Percent of Defendants in Each Risk Level Whose Supervision Ended Due to Non-Compliance

Scored risk levels are consistent with actual misconduct rates of defendants.

Aggravating Factors Used to Raise the Risk Level

Misdemeanor Defendant Risk Levels at the Time of Interview

Supervision Caseload Review

In 2014, 52.4% of defendants arrested on a new charge were able to post bond. Most posted some form of financial bond while 11.1% were released on a personal bond.

A total of 4,981 defendants arrested for a new charge received a personal bond. Over 70% of those had a low or low-moderate risk level at the time the personal bond was granted while 24.5% had a moderate risk level and 4.9% scored as high risk.

Other defendants released on personal bond and supervised by Pretrial Services include 107 defendants whose appearance was required in court on a motion to adjudicate or revoke probation, appealed a case disposition, were required to participate in a Community Supervision & Corrections Department (CSCD) assessment program, or were given a bond for a specific length of time after judgment was entered on a case before the execution of the sentence (performance bond). An additional 263 people were supervised as part of the First Chance Intervention Program (FCIP).

For defendants supervised for a new case, 3,923 defendants, or 78.8%, had standard release conditions. The remaining 1,058 defendants (21.2%) were ordered to comply with one or more additional release conditions.

The most frequently ordered condition was the requirement to submit to drug testing, affecting 65.4% of defendants with additional conditions. Installation of a breath-alcohol analysis device either in the form of an ignition interlock device installed in a vehicle or an in-home device was placed on 23.6% of the defendants with additional conditions. The courts required 41 defendants to observe a curfew. Of those, 13 defendants were ordered to wear an electronic monitoring device.

Defendants who receive pretrial intervention with CSCD are still on bond until the diversion or intervention program requirements are fulfilled and must appear in court during their participation. Defendants under the department's supervision who subsequently receive pretrial diversion or intervention usually remain on a personal bond while participating in these programs and we continue to monitor their case and remind them of upcoming court dates. During 2014, 475 defendants were monitored for this purpose along with 55 defendants with a motion to adjudicate or revoke probation who were granted a personal bond with no supervision by this department other than that necessary to assure appearance in court.

Throughout 2014, the average number of defendants actively supervised or monitored by the department was 1,896 defendants. This is a 27.4% increase in average caseload size compared to 2013. Defendants released on personal bond for a new case comprised 71.5% of the average caseload; those monitored while in a CSCD program were 18.4% of the caseload; 2.3% were on a performance bond, appeal, or motion to revoke or adjudication probation with pretrial services supervision; and 7.8% participated in the FCIP.

Standard Release Conditions

In-person reporting on each court date

Contact by phone at least every two weeks

Calls the day before court to confirm court date

Notification of all address, telephone number or employment changes

Permission requirements for travel out of the Harris County area

Additional Release Conditions

Submit to random drug tests

Install and use deep lung breath analysis devices

Adhere to a curfew with or without electronic monitoring

Abide by residence requirements

Seek or maintain employment

Seek or maintain attendance in education program

Participate in substance or alcohol use treatment

Participate in mental health services

Drug Test Activity

The department uses a screening device, a point-of-collection test (POCT), to screen defendants reporting for the first drug test after release. All subsequent specimens are sent directly to a laboratory for analysis.

The department tested 930 defendants in 2014 performing a total of 3,594 drug tests. That is 37.4% more defendants tested than last year and an 45.6% increase in the number of tests.

There were 818 POCT specimens collected and tested onsite. A total of 2,722 specimens were collected and sent to a laboratory for analysis, with 711 specimens, or 26%, testing positive.

Overall, the positive rate on the first test, usually a POCT, was 69.1%. The percent positive decreased after the first test, with 48.1% testing positive at least once after the first test.

The department administered 36 tests on a deep-lung breath analysis device onsite as a result of suspicion that a defendant appearing in court is intoxicated. Also, 18 transdermal patch tests were used on defendants who could not be tested by other methods.

The department scans the index finger of a defendant reporting for a drug test and submits it, along with the defendant's system person number, to the Sheriff's Department automated fingerprint identification system (AFIS). Pretrial Services then receives a picture associated with those items and uses the picture to ensure the correct person reported for a drug test.

Conclusion of Supervision Period

There were 4,810 defendants under active supervision with a new case who exited supervision in 2014. Of those, 4,453 were charged with a misdemeanor offense and 357 had a felony offense.

Of the 4,453 misdemeanor defendants whose supervision period ended, 74.7% were not further incarcerated, 19.4% because their case was dismissed. Jail time was the sentence imposed on 7.4% of the remaining defendants. Another 17.5% had their bond revoked for noncompliance issues. Of those revoked for noncompliance, 9% were for failing to appear for a scheduled court date and 8.5% for noncompliance with conditions of supervision (e.g., do not use drugs, abide by curfew restrictions). Fewer than 1% exited supervision for other reasons.

Of the 357 defendants charged with a felony, 65.8% received no additional jail time, 30.8% because their case was dismissed or no-billed. Another 1.7% of defendants charged with a felony were ordered to jail or prison. Noncompliance claimed 30.2% of defendants charged with a felony, 9.5% for failing to appear in court and 20.7% for violating the conditions of release. The remainder, 2.2%, exited for reasons other than noncompliance (e.g., personal bond replaced, bond was for a specific time period).

The most common sentence imposed included some form of community supervision, especially for misdemeanor cases with 37.3% entering a CSCD program. For defendants with a felony charge, CSCD supervision barely edged out dismissal or no bill as the most frequent sentence at 38% of all felony defendants exiting Pretrial Services supervision.

Disposition of New Cases

Defendants whose bonds are revoked for non-compliance are no longer part of the active supervision caseload; however, their cases are assigned to an FTA investigator who locates fugitive defendants with outstanding warrants. Over 71% of all FTA warrants issued in 2014 were resolved by February 15, 2015.

Another 100 defendants who were monitored by the department while appealing a case disposition, addressing a motion to adjudicate or revoke probation, or who were released after pleading guilty but before the imposition of a sentence saw their supervision end in 2013 - 86% successfully. Of 432 defendants enrolled in a CSCD program, 74.3% completed their diversion program or had a motion to revoke dismissed while 25.7% had their case adjudicated. Of the 19 people who completed the First Chance Intervention Program by the end of 2014, 73.7% exiting the program having successfully completed the program requirements.

B. Bond Activity

Tables 1-4 reflect bonding activity for defendants with an initial arrest in the reporting year (Section I.A). Only bonds posted by the last day of the subsequent month after arrest are reflected in the tables. Defendants incarcerated past the last day of the next month before posting bond are not captured. Only the bond attached to the initial arrest and release is reported. Defendants who subsequently have a warrant issued after the initial arrest (i.e., failure to appear, bond revocation) are not included in Section I.A or in Section I.B.

* If a defendant has multiple cases then the sum of the bail amount of all the cases and the sum of all bonds posted will determine in which category the defendant is counted. The original bail amount set at filing may not be the same as the bail amount posted. For instance, 88888888 is a bail amount set at filing for certain offenses until a judge or magistrate can determine appropriate bail.

First Chance Intervention Program

Pretrial Services provides supervision for participants in the First Chance Intervention Program (FCIP). The program - initiated by the Harris County District Attorney's Office - offers nonviolent, first-time offenders who possess two ounces or less of marijuana (a Class B misdemeanor) a chance to avoid formal charging or, if charged, avoid conviction. A person is referred to the program pre-charge by the arresting officer working with the District Attorney's Intake staff. If charged with a qualifying offense, a person can be referred from the court and will have the case against them dismissed upon completing the program.

Once the person agrees to the terms of the program, whether pre-charge or post-charge, Pretrial Services is notified and begins the process to assess and supervise the participant. Following an interview and risk assessment, and after signing a FCIP agreement, participants are assigned to either a 60-day supervision period with a community service requirement or a 90-day supervision period with a cognitive skills class requirement.

Individuals who opt out of the program or fail to satisfactorily complete the program requirements are referred back to the District Attorney's Office for prosecution.

As the District Attorney's Office explains, "The program recognizes the principle that first-time offenders who commit low-level, non-violent offenses are often self-correcting, without the need for more formal and costly criminal justice intervention. It also frees up law enforcement, jail, prosecution and court resources that would otherwise be expended in the arrest and prosecution of the offender."

First Chance Intervention Program Participants

First Chance Intervention Program Condition

In 2015, 1,840 people were referred to FCIP. Over 82% successfully completed the program.

First Chance Intervention Program Disposition

Defendant Information

The department compiles reports on defendants charged in Harris County with Class B misdemeanor or greater offenses. The report contains the defendant's criminal history, demographic information, education and employment status - factors that contribute to an assessment of the defendant's risk of pretrial misconduct. These factors, along with the defendant's risk assessment score, contribute to the department's release recommendation. The Pretrial Services defendant report facilitates informed decision-making throughout the pretrial stage of a case, beginning with bail review at the probable cause hearing and for subsequent appearances before the assigned court. Pretrial officers present reports to the magistrates conducting probable cause hearings; judges in the assigned courts receive a hard copy and also can view the report online. Other authorized criminal justice personnel can view report information online as well.

The number of interviews conducted decreased along with the number of arrests; however, the percent of the arrest population interviewed by the department with suspected mental health issues remained steady.

Characteristics of Defendants Interviewed

Defendant Report Activity

Arrests in 2015 on a new charge where the most serious offense was a class A or B misdemeanor offense were down 3% from the previous year and down over 15% since 2011. Arrests for new felony offenses saw a 1.2% increase in 2015 over 2014.

There were a total of 83,312 arrests in 2015. This included 50,947 people whose most serious charge was a new misdemeanor and 32,365 people arrested for a new felony offense. Defendants charged with felony offenses accounted for 38.8% of arrests and misdemeanors for 61.2%.

The department compiled 69,141 defendant reports on incarcerated defendants, screening 83.1% of the arrested population. Staff prepared 41,295 reports on defendants arrested solely for a misdemeanor offense, compiling information on 81.1% of that population. For those defendants arrested for a felony, the percentage was 86%, or 27,846 reports completed.

Other defendants interviewed included 77 defendants who originally posted a financial bond and were interviewed after release for consideration for a personal bond and 44 interviews conducted with non-incarcerated defendants who had an open warrant, usually on a motion to adjudicate or a motion to revoke probation. In addition, 74 interviews were conducted for performance, appeal, and witness bonds.

For the First Chance Intervention Program, 990 interviews and risk assessments were conducted. Of those interviewed specifically for the program, 559 were pre-charge and 431 were post-charge.

Risk Assessment

The scores obtained from the risk assessment instrument range from 0 - 17 points. Higher risk scores are associated with increasing probabilities for pretrial misconduct (failure to appear in court, re-offense).

Point Range	Risk Level	% Rate of Misconduct
0 - 3	Low	Less than 10%
4 - 5	Low-Moderate	12% - 14%
6 - 7	Moderate	17% - 24%
8 and above	High	Greater than 29%

Supervision Caseload Review

In 2015, 51.8% of defendants arrested on a new charge were able to post bond. Most posted some form of financial bond while 11.1% were released on a personal bond.

A total of 4,862 defendants arrested for a new charge received a personal bond. Almost 70% of those had a low or low-moderate risk score at the time the personal bond was granted, while 25.4% had a moderate risk score and 4.8% scored as high risk.

Other defendants released on personal bond and supervised by Pretrial Services included 138 defendants whose appearance was required in court on a motion to adjudicate or revoke probation, appealed a case disposition, were required to participate in a Community Supervision & Corrections Department (CSCD) assessment program, or were given a bond for a specific length of time after judgment was entered on a case before the execution of the sentence (performance bond). An additional 1,840 people joined the First Chance Intervention Program (FCIP).

For defendants supervised for a new case, 3,699 defendants, or 76.1%, had standard release conditions. The remaining 1,163 defendants (23.9%) were ordered to comply with one or more additional release conditions.

The most frequently ordered condition was the requirement to submit to drug testing, affecting 65.5% of defendants with additional conditions. A breath-alcohol analysis device, either in the form of an ignition interlock device installed in a vehicle or an in-home device, was placed on 26.1% of the defendants with additional conditions. The courts required 44 defendants to observe a curfew. Of those, 13 defendants were ordered to wear an electronic monitoring device.

Defendants who receive pretrial intervention through the CSCD are still on bond until the diversion or intervention program requirements are fulfilled and must appear in court during their participation. Defendants under the department's supervision who subsequently receive pretrial diversion or intervention usually remain on a personal bond while participating in these programs and we continue to monitor their case and remind them of upcoming court dates. During 2015, 415 defendants were monitored for this purpose along with 22 defendants with a motion to adjudicate or revoke probation who were granted a personal bond with no supervision by this department other than that necessary to assure appearance in court.

Throughout 2015, the average number of defendants actively supervised or monitored by the department was 2,150 defendants. This is a 13.9% increase in average caseload size compared to last year and a 45.2% increase since 2013. Defendants released on personal bond for a new case comprised 60.8% of the average caseload; those monitored while in a CSCD program were 12.5% of the caseload; 11.3% were on a performance bond, appeal, or motion to revoke or adjudication probation with pretrial services supervision; and 15.5% participated in the FCIP.

Standard Release Conditions

In-person reporting on each court date

Contact by phone at least every two weeks

Calls the day before court to confirm court date

Notification of all address, telephone number or employment changes

Permission requirements for travel out of the Harris County area

Additional Release Conditions

Submit to random drug tests

Install and use deep lung breath analysis devices

Adhere to a curfew with or without electronic monitoring

Abide by residence requirements

Seek or maintain employment

Seek or maintain attendance in education program

Participate in substance or alcohol use treatment

Participate in mental health services

Drug Test Activity

The department uses a device, a point-of-collection test (POCT), to screen defendants reporting for the first drug test after release. All subsequent specimens are sent directly to a laboratory for analysis.

The department tested 1,215 defendants in 2015, over 30% more people than 2014. The department performed a total of 4,653 drug tests, a 29.5% increase over last year.

There were 994 POCT specimens collected and tested onsite. A total of 3,625 specimens were collected and sent to a laboratory for analysis, with 866 specimens, or 21.8%, testing positive.

Overall, the positive rate on the first test, usually a POCT, was 59.9%. The percent positive decreased after the first test, with 47% testing positive at least once after the first test.

The department administered 14 tests on a deep-lung breath analysis device onsite as a result of suspicion that a defendant appearing in court was intoxicated. Also, 20 transdermal patch tests were used on defendants who could not be tested by other methods.

The department scans the index finger of a defendant reporting for a drug test and submits it, along with the defendant's system person number, to the Sheriff's Department automated fingerprint identification system (AFIS). Pretrial Services then receives a picture associated with those items and uses the picture to ensure the correct person reported for a drug test.

Conclusion of Supervision Period

There were 4,982 defendants under active supervision with a new case who exited supervision in 2015. Of those, 4,459 were charged with a misdemeanor offense and 523 had a felony offense.

Of the 4,459 misdemeanor defendants whose supervision period ended, 75.7% were not further incarcerated, 19.4% because their case was dismissed. Jail time was the sentence imposed on 5.3% of the remaining defendants. Another 18.6% had their bond revoked for noncompliance issues. Of those revoked for noncompliance, 10.4% were for failing to appear for a scheduled court date, 3.4% were for re-arrest while on bond, and 4.8% for non-compliance with conditions of supervision (e.g., do not use drugs, abide by curfew restrictions). Fewer than 1% exited supervision for other reasons.

Of the 523 defendants charged with a felony, 58.1% received no additional jail time, 20.1% because their case was dismissed or no-billed. Another 3.6% of defendants charged with a felony were ordered to jail or prison. Noncompliance claimed 35.4% of defendants charged with a felony, 10.7% for failing to appear in court, 7.6% for re-arrest while on bond, and 17% for violating the conditions of release. The remainder, 2.9%, exited for reasons other than noncompliance (e.g., personal bond replaced, bond was for a specific time period).

The most common sentence imposed included some form of community supervision, especially for misdemeanor cases with 44.5% entering a CSCD program. For defendants with a felony charge, CSCD supervision accounted for 36% of all felony defendants exiting Pretrial Services supervision.

Defendants whose bonds are revoked for non-compliance are no longer part of the active supervision caseload; however, their cases are assigned to an FTA investigator who locates fugitive defendants with outstanding warrants. Over 71% of all FTA warrants issued in 2015 were resolved by February 15, 2016.

Another 130 defendants who were monitored by the department while appealing a case disposition, addressing a motion to adjudicate or revoke probation, or who were released after pleading guilty but before the imposition of a sentence saw their supervision end in 2015 - 78.5% successfully. Of 539 defendants enrolled in a CSCD program, 85.6% completed their diversion program or had a motion to revoke dismissed while 14.4% had their case adjudicated. Of the 1,626 people who completed the First Chance Intervention Program by the end of 2015, 82.7% exiting the program having successfully completed the program requirements.

B. Bond Activity

Tables 1-4 reflect bonding activity for defendants with an initial arrest in the reporting year (Section I.A). Only bonds posted by the last day of the subsequent month after arrest are reflected in the tables. Defendants incarcerated past the last day of the next month before posting bond are not captured. Only the bond attached to the initial arrest and release is reported. Defendants who subsequently have a warrant issued after the initial arrest (i.e., failure to appear, bond revocation) are not included in Section I.A or in Section I.B.

* If a defendant has multiple cases then the sum of the bail amount of all the cases and the sum of all bonds posted will determine in which category the defendant is counted. The original bail amount set at filing may not be the same as the bail amount posted. For instance, 88888888 is a bail amount set at filing for certain offenses until a judge or magistrate can determine appropriate bail.
